What the demand gen campaigns convert on

All-conversions per action across the selected demand gen campaigns. Google reports action-level conversions at campaign scope, not per asset — cost / conv divides the scope's whole spend by the action's conversions; conv rate divides them by its clicks.

Business name, logo and call-to-action assets serve with every impression, so Google attributes the whole ad's metrics to them — their rows mirror campaign totals rather than a per-creative split. Conversions on this table are the campaigns' optimized conversions; the by-action breakdown above is the per-action view. Video titles open the video directly on YouTube; image assets link to the full-size file.
